

Mrs. Wilson's Class – "The Battle of the Pets"

In the battle of the pets
The dogs are going crazy
The turtles don't do anything
The cats are really lazy

The cows are riding on the horses
Charging into battle
Dachshunds and some Labradors
Are tucked into the saddle

The pigs have made a catapult
They're launching apple pies
The dogs have dressed up two Chihuahuas
In a rat disguise

In the battle of the pets
The dogs are going crazy
The turtles don't do anything
The cats are really lazy

When mules and donkeys start to kick
The cats don't stand a chance
Until the kittens rescue them
With lassos and a lance

In the battle of the pets
The little pets are winning
The dogs and pigs are running scared
And all their heads are spinning

A thousand hamsters on the stairs
Are putting on the jet packs
The guinea pigs and bunnies are Preparing for their pet attack

In the battle of the pets
The little pets are winning
The dogs and pigs are running scared
And all their heads are spinning

The hermit crabs have got their claws out
Ready for a sneak attack
The chickens and the parakeets
Are ready for a beak attack

In the battle of the pets
The little pets are willing
The dogs and pigs are running scared
And all their heads are spinning

The rats and mice have found some needles
Made them into swords
The chameleons are camouflaged
Attacking on their skateboards

In the battle of the pets
The little pets have won
It doesn't matter anyway
