

Pre-K Home Learning: Week 6

Dear Pre-K Families,

I miss you all! Thank you for taking the time to read these plans, share pictures, and participate in check-ins. We will be continuing to learn about shadows and reflections this week. I'm so excited to read one of my favorite stories from this unit, The Puddle Pail, this week, too! We will be beginning to notice that materials are transparent, translucent, or opaque. We will also continue to experiment with shadows and sources of light! I'm wishing for lots of warm days, so that we can play outside in the best light source of all - the sun!

In gratitude,
Ms. Valente
