Dear Multi-Age Families --

Wow! Week 10!

This week's learning plan is all about reading connections, handwriting, place value, and fun with shadows. Look for connected activities in zoom meetings and on Seesaw/Class Dojo. Have fun with learning as we head toward the end of emergency home learning and remember -- the learning doesn't stop when school does! Keep reading, discussing, noticing, and creating. Stay curious and your kids will, too. We have two more weeks of school and they will look a little different than the last ten have. Stay tuned for more information!

As always, we're here if you need us.

Enjoy your Monday holiday!

Be well!
