

You Are the Artist and the Musician: Imagining Your Own Band

People have been making musical instruments and decorating them for centuries.

Groups of people get together and enjoy creating music and songs.

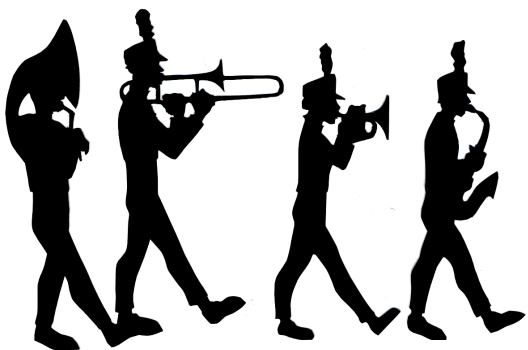

This part of the lesson looks at different types of bands. You get to decide what type of band you'd like to create and play music with.

You will decide how many musicians will be in the band. You decide which instruments should be included. You can even design the band's logo for a t-shirt.
