

The Articles of Confederation

Our New Nation's First Constitution

The Articles of Confederation

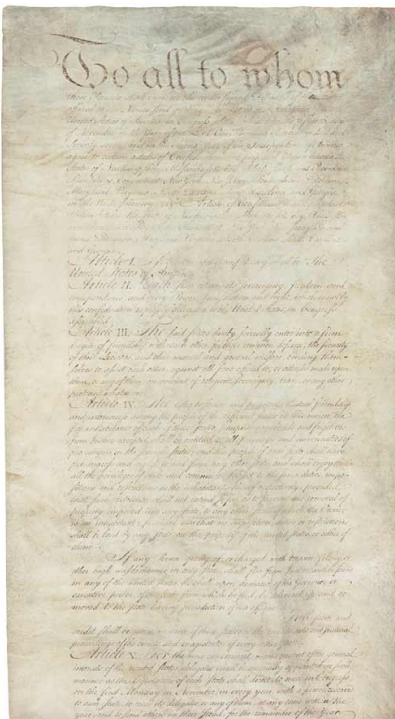

When the United States declared their independence from Great Britain in 1776, they were _____ Britain's laws.

So they had to write their own laws.

: the rules a country, state, or organization follows, usually written down

The United States' first attempt at a constitution was called

*We have it in our power to begin the world over again.
A situation, similar to the present, hath not happened since the days of Noah until now.*

*The birthday of a new world is at hand.
~ Thomas Paine, February, 1776*

The Articles of Confederation: What it Said

Included:

a _____ branch
(to make laws)

_____ legislature (one house)

each state had _____ vote

Had the power to:

borrow money

manage Native American affairs

Did NOT include:

an _____ branch
(to enforce the laws)

a _____ branch
(to interpret the laws)

Did NOT have the power to:

create one national

_____ (type of money; each state had a different currency!)

_____ the states or people (no $$ to run the gov't!)

Why were the Articles of Confederation so weak?

What we didn't like about the British. . . So the Articles of Confederation said...

Taxes!

Federal government could not tax

The king had all the power

States only had to follow their own laws
(not any federal laws OR any other states' laws!)

There was no executive branch or national court system.

All power was in the King's hands - he could change the rules/laws at any time without any say from the people

Any change (amendment) in the laws required approval from all 13 states

The Articles of Confederation Are Adopted

All 13 states had to _____ (agree to follow) The Articles of Confederation; this means they needed _____ support.

Some states refused to ratify the Articles until all the states gave up their

The Articles of Confederation became the official constitution of the United States on March 1, 1781.

The Land Ordinance of 1785

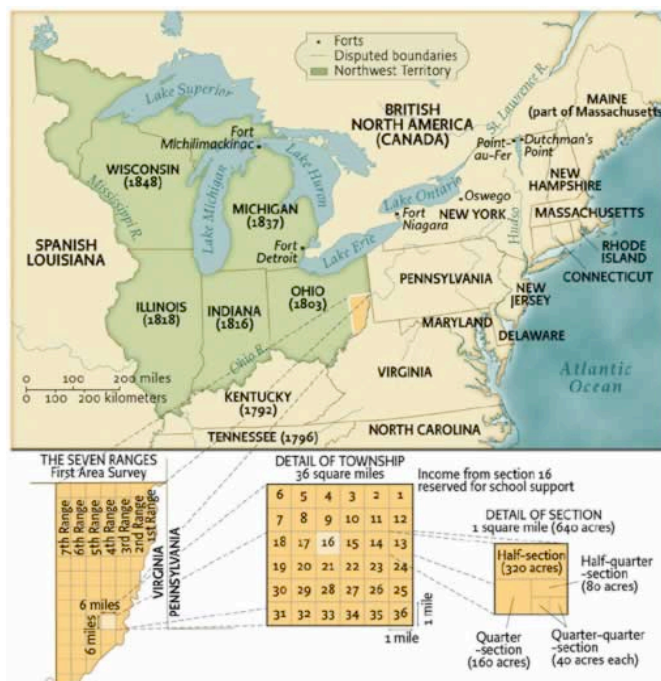

created by the government operating under the Articles of Confederation provided orderly method of land would be surveyed and divided into townships

each parcel was _____ one mi square sections

land sold for $_____/acre

The Northwest Ordinance of 1787

also created by the government operating under the Articles of Confederation land in the Northwest Territory would be divided into 3-5 territories could elect a territorial gov't once _____ adult males settled there

once the population reached _____, they could apply for statehood

Shays' Rebellion

_____ in western MA couldn't pay their debts and lost their property or were jailed in late 1786 - early 1787, local militias showed up at the courts and farm auctions _____ and stopped this from happening

this showed that the Articles of Confederation _____ very well:

the government it set up had to _____ states to provide militias to put down rebellions (and the states could say NO!)

Shay's Rebellion was only stopped when _____ in MA paid men to fight against the rebels

The Philadelphia/Constitutional Convention

George Washington held a meeting at Mt. Vernon (his home) to discuss fishing rights while they were chatting, many at the meeting said the _____ wasn't working they decided to hold a meeting in _____, Maryland in 1786 to discuss changing the AOC, but only _____ states sent delegates

so they had another meeting in _____ in May of 1787 _____ delegates from _____ of the 13 states attending this meeting (Rhode Island didn't show up)

Their goal was only to _____ (change) the AOC, not to start over (but that is what they wound up doing!)

The new document created at this meeting became our _____!

The Preamble to the US Constitution

SchoolHouse Rock Preamble

We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.