

Reformation Europe, 1500

The map illustrates the political divisions of Europe in 1500. Key features include:

- North Sea: Located to the north of the British Isles and Scandinavia.
- British Isles: Ireland (pink), England (orange, with London), and Wales (orange).
- France: Yellow, with Paris and Nantes marked.
- Spain: Light orange, with Madrid marked.
- Portugal: Green, on the western coast of Europe.
- Holy Roman Empire: Red, covering Central Europe. It includes the cities of Mainz, Worms, Augsburg, and the Swiss Confederation. Other regions within the empire include Brandenburg, Wittenberg, Prague, and the Austrian-Treat.
- Sweden: Pink, in the north.
- Denmark: Yellow, in the north.
- Norway: Yellow, in the north.
- Teutonic Order: Orange, in the Baltic region.
- Poland-Lithuania: Yellow, in the east.
- Hungary: Purple, in the east.
- Wallachia: Red, in the east.
- Ottoman Empire: Green, in the south-east.
- Muscovy: Orange, in the far east.
- Black Sea: Blue, to the east of the Ottoman Empire.
- Mediterranean Sea: Blue, to the south of Europe.
- Adriatic Sea: Blue, between Italy and the Ottoman Empire.
- Italy: Divided into several states, including the Papal States (pink), the Kingdom of Naples (orange), and the Kingdom of Sicily (orange).
- Avignon: A city in France, marked with a blue dot.
- Corse: A small island in the Mediterranean Sea.
- Sardinia: A small island in the Mediterranean Sea.
- Genoa: A city in Italy, marked with a blue dot.
- Rome: A city in Italy, marked with a blue dot.
- Naples: A city in Italy, marked with a blue dot.
- Sicily: A large island in the Mediterranean Sea.
- Sardinia: A small island in the Mediterranean Sea.
- Crete: A small island in the Mediterranean Sea.
- Rhodes: A small island in the Mediterranean Sea.
- Malta: A small island in the Mediterranean Sea.
- Cyprus: A small island in the Mediterranean Sea.
- Crete: A small island in the Mediterranean Sea.
- Rhodes: A small island in the Mediterranean Sea.
- Malta: A small island in the Mediterranean Sea.
- Cyprus: A small island in the Mediterranean Sea.