

History As Mystery

You are a history detective given the mission to solve a mystery. You will be given a set of clues from which you must gather information to help you solve the mystery.

Examine the documents at each station to gather information to help you answer the question “What might cause an organization to change?” Be sure to note the important information presented in each source at each station. After analyzing all the clues you will create a hypothesis of the solution to the mystery.
